Dates Of Manufacture According To Serial Number And Other Information On The Most Popular American Made Watches

Waltham

The Howard, Davis and Dennison Watch Co., also known as AMERICAN HOROLOGE CO., formed in Roxbury, Mass. In 1850, failed in 1857, and was bought by the Tracy, Baker & Co. Which through the following stages became the Waltham Watch Co.

1857—Tracy, Baker & Co. Later that year changing to Appleton, Tracy and Co.

1858—Waltham Improvement Co.

1859—American Watch Co.

1885—American Waltham Watch Co.

1906—Waltham Watch Co.

1923—Waltham Watch and Clock Co.

1925—Waltham Watch Co.

In 1957 the company ceased manufacture of watches and clocks and became the Waltham Precision Instrument Co. The Rights to use the name “Waltham Watch Co.” were sold to the Hallmark Watch Co. Of Chicago. Since that time Waltham watch movements are imported and have no relationship with the original Waltham Watch Co. A Federal Trade Commission ruling in 1961 prohibits inferring that any such relationship exists.

Hampden and Dueber-Hampden

The HAMPDEN WATCH CO. resulted from a combination of the Hampden Watch Co. which made movements and the Dueber Case Co. Originally from Massachusetts they moved to Canton, Ohio, where they built a large factory in 1888. Until 1927 they produced nearly five million watches. The factory went into receivership in 1930 and was sold to Russia.

Swiss watches bearing the name "Hampden" are distributed by the Hampton Watch Co. of Chicago who acquired the right to use the name in 1939 but have no other relationship to the old company.

No serial number list is available for Hampden watches.

Watches bearing the following names are also Hampden watches.

Molly Stark	Dueber Watch Co.
General Stark	Railway
Champion Stark	New Railway
Champion	Four Hundred
John C. Dueber	John Hancock
Diadem	William McKinley
Dueber Grand	Special Railway

Howard

The HOWARD, DAVIS & Dennison Co. also known as AMERICAN HOROLOGE CO. began manufacturing watches at Roxbury, Mass. in 1850. The company failed in 1857 and was sold. E. Howard formed a new company in 1857 making watches of excellent quality. In 1903 the rights to use the "Howard" name was sold to the Keystone Watch Case Co. of Philadelphia.

The New York Standard Co. began in 1885 at Jersey City, N.J. Sold to the Keystone Case Company in 1903 but produced watches until 1925.

These names appeared on the watches: Crown, Columbia, Dan Patch, Excelsior, New Era, Ideal, Higrade, Regent, Wilmington, Perfection

No serial number lists are available for these watches.

American Names on Imported Watches

Prior to 1871 the United States was flooded with European made watches which were given American sounding names. Many came from companies in England using movements made in Switzerland. In 1871 Congress passed a law requiring all watches to be marked with country of origin.

Some of the most popular names used on these imported watches were:

BRISTOL WATCH CO., BRISTOL, CONN.
EAGLE WATCH CO.
EXCELSIOR
MARION WATCH CO.
OHIO WATCH CO.
PENNSYLVANIA
PHILADELPHIA WATCH CO.
ROXBURY WATCH CO.
UNION WATCH CO.
WALLINGFORD WATCH CO.
